

It seems to me there is little enough variation in the perspective of the news we get over the airwaves and I would like to see (hear) other viewpoints. PBS seems to be the only reliable source of alternative information.